in 2001 art critic and historian benjamin buchloh declared the death of art criticism during the october journal s roundtable the present conditions of art criticism the following decade witnessed a plethora of articles conferences and books devoted to the crisis of criticism all efforts thus far seem to have failed the crisis has not been abated art criticism is decaying and our historical moment is not only post modern but also post critical at the same time art writing has become such a broad spectrum of literature that neither author nor reader take it seriously the writing is often ironic filled with joyful and mediocre immediacy and not to mention a proud ahistoricism we are also told however that this is a great moment for culture writings on film music and art are to be found everywhere you turn or click the internet has allowed the democratization of cultural production anyone can upload a film to youtube or a track to myspace everyone has a voice everyone has a blog and everyone is a critic under quickly changing conditions then what are the present tasks of aspiring art critics this undertaking is multilayered but it must begin with an understanding the crisis of criticism in its contemporary and historical expressions in the first two sections the thesis surveys the symptoms of the illness how art criticism has been unable to grasp the swift changes in the art world and how the curator the dealer and the collector have replaced the critic as the main mediators between art and its public the third section outlines how contemporary art criticism largely anti greenbergian and anti modern suffers from the flight from judgment in the fourth section i explain how art criticism was displaced with the emergence of art practices in the 1960s that thought to incorporate criticism into the work itself all are important and often contradictory considerations when seeking to understand the demise of art criticism but all are not equally important for the task of resurrecting and redeeming criticism the final part will dedicate itself to the future of criticism in light of its history it will investigate and introduce possible paths for the reconstitution of art criticism suggesting possibilities exist in the overlooked history of earlier art criticism
